HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY

RESPONSIBILITIES

Overall responsibility for Health and Safety within the school is that of: NOTES:

Carl Sugden
Head Teacher

Andrew Knight
Chair of Governors

Day to day responsibility for ensuring this policy is put into practice is delegated to:

Justin Waters
Director of Business Services

If the Headteacher is not always there, or does not have time to manage on a day-to-day basis, you can delegate this role to someone else, e.g. Deputy Headteacher, Head of Year, Premises Officer etc. Ensure that the person with overall responsibility is kept informed of Health and Safety matters – it will still be their overall responsibility

To ensure Health and Safety standards are maintained/improved, the following people have responsibility in the following areas:

Pat Dunnill
Health & Safety Governor

Helen Handley Safeguarding

David Williams
Site Manager

Curriculum Leaders

Delegate functions to people within your organisation either by specific areas within the workplace or by topic. Include their specific responsibilities in their job descriptions (if they have one).

Ensure that they are competent to undertake their Health and Safety responsibilities and have adequate resources to enable them to do their job properly.

It is important that responsibilities are clearly set out – this will make sure that if there are any Health and Safety concerns they can be reported to the right person, so they can be dealt with.

You may wish to insert a diagram or chart showing your management structure/arrangements.

Specific responsibilities for headteachers, managers, heads of departments and staff can be found in the NYCC Corporate Health and Safety Policy which can be found in:

Director of Business Services' Office

All employees have to:

- co-operate with supervisors and managers on Health and Safety matters;
- not interfere with anything provided to safeguard their Health and Safety;
- take reasonable care of their own Health and Safety and of others; and
- report all Health and Safety concerns to an appropriate person (as detailed in this policy statement).

Employees have legal responsibilities to take care of the Health and Safety of themselves and others, and to co-operate with management to help comply with the law.

Equally, if employees have any concerns over Health and Safety issues, they should be clear about whom they should tell, so that concerns can be addressed.

ARRANGEMENTS

All employees must be given health and safety induction training when they start work. This can be combined with other useful information (e.g. pay, leave and hours of work). It needs to cover basic health and safety such as first aid and fire safety.

Employees will need job-specific training, which includes the health and safety aspects of the job.

You also have to provide Health and Safety training for people when risks change, or periodically, e.g. if skills do not get used regularly.

Some jobs will require additional special training (e.g. manual handling, driving etc.)

You may wish to refer to your school development plan. It is important to keep records of training (even training you have provided in-house) to show that employees have received training.

Trade union safety reps have the right to carry out inspections and investigate accidents.

Reactively - you can investigate any accidents or sickness absences that occur.

Investigating accidents is a useful way of reviewing your safety systems – ask yourself why the accident really happened and what you can do to stop it happening again.

A type three survey must be undertaken before any invasive construction/demolition work commences, unless it is absolutely certain that no ACMs are present in the work area.

Contractors - The location of ACMs indicated on the plan must be brought to the attention of all contractors coming on site. The permit to work confirming this fact must be completed by the contractor before work commences.

Risk Assessment and Inspection - A risk assessment must be undertaken for all known ACMs. The level of risk will depend on the type of material, its location and its condition. Using the algorithm attached to the survey a visual inspection programme of ACMs must be set up. The risk assessment will help you to establish the necessary frequency of visual inspections.

Emergency Action - The 'Asbestos Emergency Action Plan' should be readily available and brought to the attention of all staff.
