Section 1: Rational

- Effective literacy skills are fundamental to raising pupils' self-esteem and attainment; they enable independent and lifelong learning. We aim to promote all pupils' confidence in speaking, listening, reading and writing.
- All teaching contributes to pupils' development of language since speaking, listening, reading and writing are integral to all learning. Literacy is therefore most effectively taught through a whole school approach in which all teachers and senior management recognise the importance of literacy skills and actively promote their development.

Section 2: Principles

- Pupils should be taught in all subjects to express themselves correctly and appropriately and to read accurately and to demonstrate understanding.
- In writing, pupils should be taught to use correct spelling and punctuation and follow grammatical conventions. They should also be taught to organise their writing in logical and coherent forms.
- In speaking, pupils should be taught to use language precisely and cogently.
- In reading, pupils should be taught strategies to help them read with understanding, to locate and use information, to follow a process or argument and synthesise what they learn from their reading.
- Pupils should be taught the technical and specialist vocabulary of subjects and how to use and spell these words. They should also be taught to use the patterns of language vital to understanding and expression in different subjects. These include the construction of sentences, paragraphs and texts which are often used in a subject eg. language to express causality, chronology, logic, exploration, hypothesis, comparison, and how to ask questions and develop argument.

- The School will foster a love of reading as an end in itself and promote reading for pleasure.

Section 3: Roles and Responsibilities

- Assistant Headteacher for Teaching and Learning - monitor the implementation of the whole school literacy policy and its impact; promote awareness of literacy developments within school and the community; ensure that all staff receive guidance on literacy teaching.
- Faculties/Departments – identify the literacy skills needed in their own subject and develop strategies for teaching these; evaluate the impact of these strategies; ensure that literacy skills are embedded in Schemes of Work for all year groups; identify and teach key words needed for that subject; implement whole school strategies and develop literacy skills.
- English Faculty – as above, plus – assist SEN team in monitoring levels of literacy; contribute expertise to the development of whole school literacy strategy; promote events to raise the profile of reading and literacy e.g. Spelling Bee; develop abilities in spelling, punctuation and grammar through a coherent scheme across year groups; support key cohorts' literacy needs e.g. Study+ programme. Deliver assemblies to promote reading and share information with all staff regarding reading ages and progress in programme.
- SENCo – monitor levels of pupils' literacy and co-ordinate intervention programmes; manage the transfer of information on literacy levels from KS2 to KS3
- Library – ensure that resources are available to assist subjects in literacy development; contribute to raising awareness of literacy and reading within school community. Oversight and management with English Department of Accelerated Reader
- Year Leaders – with SEN, co-ordinate the transfer of information on pupils' literacy levels from KS2 to KS3; promote literacy and reading through events and activities, as appropriate; with SEN, tutors, YM and AAHT identify and monitor pupils who need additional support in literacy skills e.g. through homework club, tutor interviews
- Classroom teachers: The policy is to highlight literacy errors to student who then act on this feedback to improve work.

Section 4: Monitoring

- SEN/English Faculty – monitor levels of attainment and ensure appropriate intervention programmes are made available; monitor the impact of intervention programmes.
- Assistant Headteacher – monitor adherence to whole school literacy and related policies (e.g. marking/ green sheets, feedback and curriculum pledge) through QA measures.
- Faculties/Departments – monitor impact of own literacy strategies through QA such as work reviews and learning walks.
